Clouds Of Air

You don't know
why you came here,
This was home to you
you held it dear.

Clouds of air can not conceal
all the things I am about to do,
Heaven has made me an advocate
of sunshine's lust for darker days.

You won't catch the last train cause the night has made
you my lover again,
Time is up on you're too late
cause the night has made
you my lover again.

Alone and shivering
on this bleak shore,
You've been left by them
I am pure love.

all the things I am about to do,
of sunshine's lust for darker days.

I Say To You

When darkness weeps I'll be around to hold her hand and lead her down, What is the meaning of it all?

Now count to one and count to three this is the place I need to be,
don't ever come close to me now,
And I say to you

Up up we've got to get away
our love is going to decay, Leave it all behind
we'll drown ourselves

And I say to you
I say to you

I say to you
I say to you

This part is never going well, is there nobody that can sell me another face, another heart?

Lock behind these wooden doors,
don't ever let them near me now,
I am afraid but I'm still the same,
And I say to you.

Tears Of Ice

There is a place where mermaids go
to cry their tears of ice, Somewhere someone is waking up and I am not alone

I will fade away
into the void of life,
And I will reach for you,
only you can help me stay alive
We cry these tears of ice.

There is a town for broken hearts,
they live there side by side,
And once again I'm one of them,
the time has come for me.

I know a place where lovers go
to cry their tears of ice, They're not alive but sinking down towards the home of lies.

Devotion

Everybody's ready to go
but I don't complain, Will you ever teach me
how to look at right?

Flowers are beginning to see that it is a mystery, Where did you get your devotion baby,
let me be a part.

Give it away, give it away,
give it away, give it away,
And if you feel like crying,
baby give it away.

There's gonna be another day when you won't dare to take my love and give it away.

I'm beginning to wonder baby, where did you stay?
Answers are not necessary because I won't swallow them.

76 Degrees

I have a house on the dark side of the road,
It is a place where I can grow old.

Holding back the lights now,
there is water everywhere,
Can I get an amen from you all?

Haven't you been there for a while where they walk on glass?
76 degrees is fine
to barely stay alive,
Haven't you been there for a while in castle number three?
76 degrees is fine.

I don't know where I'm going
or what to do,
My hands are weak,
my eyes tired, too.

Holding back the lights now,
there is water everywhere,
Can I get an amen from you all?

Take me, too,
Just this one more time
that I need,
And I feel like drowning
and I'm going down.
